Description

Bobby Pendragon has visited the alternate dimension of Denduron and waded through the endangered underwater territory of Cloral. Now Bobby once again finds himself thrust beyond the boundaries of time and space into a place that seems somewhat familiar: First Earth. Bobby and the Traveler from Cloral—Spader—have flumed to New York City, 1937, where they must uncover the evil Saint Dane's newest plot. But is Bobby ready for the difficult choices ahead?

Insightful reviews

Danielle W: Before I read this book, I have a few concerns about the past 2.

1. Since Figgis is a traveler, Bobby should have been able to understand him from the first word.
2. If there is indeed only one traveler per world, how foolish is it to have the only three veteran travelers we know of die within a couple weeks of each other. Is there a master list of planets somewhere? All Saint Dane has to do is go to a world they've never heard of...
3. Why is first earth less than 100 yrs away from 2nd earth?

After reading the book:

I still don't think the author should have dabbled with 3 Earths, and Spader's character was really flat. Actually, they were all pretty one dimensional. Definitely not my favorite book, but I'm still interested in continuing to read the next one.

Jared: MacHale's imagination seems like it is expanding more and more as he writes his third Pendragon book, The Never War. Another great fantasy adventure with Bobby and the other travelers. As the Never War connects the very real Hindenburg crash with the fantasy of travelers it pulls you more and more into the series.

In my Opinion, the traveler of First Earth, Gunny Van Dyke is just in time to help Bobby with the death of Uncle Press. I like that Gunny is a practically perfect replacement for Bobby's Uncle Press because he helps Bobby gain his confidence and power back. Something I did not like about The Never War was Saint Dane's trick was predictable. If someone changes something in the past it will always change the future, therefore Bobby should just do what has already happened in the past to keep Second and Third Earths from falling. Saint Danes trick seemed to obvious.

Overall, The action and suspense in the Never War makes it one of my favorites in the series. Always a good read for the others already reading the Pendragon series.

Matthew: I'll be writing about two main characters. One is Bobby the protagonist and Saint Daine the antagonist.

First, Bobby is the main good guy of the book. He was an ordinary teenager. He loves sports and is a good athlete. He was a basketball star. Then he learned who he really is.

Bobby is a Traveler who can travel to different worlds through gates called flumes. Most of Bobby's family is missing (Mom, Dad, and sister) except for his Uncle Press, who is also a Traveler. He also has two friends Mark and Courtney. Travelers usually send journals about their adventures to someone close to them and Bobby picked them. On Bobby's Travels he makes friends with travelers from different territories. These friends are Spader and Gunny in this book. Each time he goes through a flume he has to watch out for Quigs who guard flumes. His nemesis is Saint Daine.

Saint Daine is the bad guy of the story. He is pure evil. Even when he dies it's just his body that dies, his evil spirit lives on. He has the ability to shape shift into anyone. His goal is to cause chaos in all the territories. He does this by finding the turning point of a territory using this he can cause chaos. Saint Daine is very good at manipulating people and having them unknowingly help in his plan. Saint Daine's plans usually involve killing lots of innocent people. Saint Daine does different things to show his superiority over Bobby.

This book series has very good creative characters.

Junsei: I trust that the robust picture within the by no means battle is the LZ 129 Hindenburg blowing up. the writer wrote it with extra feel of truth and it sounded very real. i believe the most occasion is the Hindenburg blowing up too. the writer explains how the struggle whilst on among Spader and Winn Fallow and Gunny coming to forestall them. Then the writer explains the place Bobby try and shoot the rocket and his guts fails so he could not shoot and Gunny simply takes over and objective the rocket, look forward to the fireplace to hit the fuse and bang. The rocket flies to the Hindenburg and explodes. The outer later acquired on hearth first after which the inside. it's so dramatic you may also believe sorry for them. the writer made a twist within the tale simply because tourists are believe to discover the turning aspect and Bobby and his neighbors inspiration that the Hindenburg blowing up is the turning element and attach that yet 3 territory of Earth is particularly winning in order that the Zeppelin blowing up was once normal. yet Bobby did not fully grasp that until eventually he observed the simulation in 3rd Earth. So the twist was once here, as an alternative the tourists protecting the turning element from happening, the villain makes the tourists make the turning aspect until eventually they realised it really is purported to how it was.

Max: i feel this needed to be the main attention-grabbing publication within the sequence partially since it happened in 1937 which in response to the writer is taken into account "First Earth". There also are a "Second Earth" which occurs in state-of-the-art Earth, and in addition a "Third Earth" which happens in 5010, the way forward for Earth. i actually loved this publication since it used to be within the occasions of global battle II and i have continuously concept that exact element in heritage is far interesting! The 12 months was once 1937. throughout the flume, Bobby Pendragon together with his new chanced on friend, Spader, travelled again to First Earth to discover Saint Dane's diabolical agenda. during this heart-pumping event, they have met with the Gunny, the visitor from this territory; they have additionally met Jinx Olsen, the superb girl pilot; and Max Rose, a mafia leader.

Kyle: My favourite e-book because it happens at the First Earth(historic/past Earth). The bombing and Bobby facing the gangs makes it very enjoyable.
