Insightful reviews

Spitz: very light-weight for RH

Maggie: Slow at first, but picked up a little around the 70-80 page mark. By page 100 I was hooked. It just took me too long to get to the interesting part that I probably won't read anymore in series.

Mary: fun mystery by Reginald Hill..revolves around golfing and the elite..

Sarah: If part stars have been on hand i would provide this 2 1/2: larger than "okay," yet i would not cross as far as to claim I loved it. It began uninteresting yet obtained larger because it went along.

Carolyn Rose: A enjoyable quickly learn with a pleasant forged of British characters. Joe Smith is not the brightest bulb within the chandelier, yet he has a fashion of having to the ideal position on the correct time, in spite of a heavy-handed workforce out to deter him.

Windy: A welcome go back to Joe Sixsith, Hill's fun PI.
